The 'Nevaeh Saga' is a narrative focus on the thoughtful look of a young girl, facing pain- as she bares her soul.'

'At the start, Nevaeh is a fourteen-year-old girl owning a midlife crisis. Furthermore, this doesn't seem to bode favorably with her life expectancy, being bullied for being herself-her untimely death, yet she bares her soul. Finding a novel life as an angel's in disguise on Earth, that is far more magical and hope then world she existed.'

'Whatever likeness she keeps ordinary girl or angel, she is reminded of a school, a mother, a grandmother, and many sisters, that are overwhelmed with blame, hostility, and dislike of her and the struggles with life.'

'So, by loathing her for being alive and passing this dislike to anyone and everyone, Nevaeh keeps falling and grieving her way to mental delusion.'

'Now a fallen angel Nevaeh speaks when she did not have a voice, to do so before on an original search for herself, for others, and a new world.'

My hook is: 'Nevaeh, she is a small girl in her Earthly world and made to be mental, when not truly, and has teenagers in her class, and her family puts her down.'

'Until needing escape; regardless this means that she can rise above all of them, and shine in the world, that she has created, that she is going to lead you through!'
